

The week of the US Open, June 15, 2007, marked the official opening of the highly anticipated Heritage Todd Creek Golf Club in Thornton, Colorado.

The Arthur Hills designed 7,378 yard championship golf course has been carefully crafted to compliment the native contours of the surrounding Rocky Mountain landscape creating an exceptionally unique golfing experience. With rolling terrain, a variety of elevation changes and the introduction of the Smith River, native grasses and wetlands, this course goes beyond the ordinary round of golf. Golfers are invited to test their abilities from one of five sets of tees providing a multitude of challenges for golfers of all levels of skill.

To reserve your tee time please call 303.655.1779. Heritage Todd Creek Golf Club is located at 8455 Heritage Drive in Thornton off of the Yosemite Drive exit off Highway 7.

"Heritage Todd Creek Golf Club provides a majestic golf experience for golfers of every level of skill. We're excited to share this exceptional golf course with the golf enthusiasts of the area," says Herb Moore, Director of Golf at Heritage Todd Creek.

Enjoy one of Colorado's finest practice facilities prior to teeing off. The impressive grass tee driving range allows golfers to sharpen their driving and iron precision over 60,000 square feet of open land. Perfect your short game proficiency at the 10,000 square-foot putting green and chipping green surrounded by three bunkers.
